About This Game

Tales of Cosmos is an old-school point-and-click adventure game set in a huge open world planetary system. Pilot your rocket across space, land on planets and moons, solve puzzles, and unravel a cosmic mystery with the help of a genius monkey and a wondrous talking dog.

Take on the dual role of Perseus and Gagayev, intrepid animal astronauts who stumble into a dangerous space anomaly and get stranded on an uncharted planet named Chlorine Beach. Build your own spaceship, blast off into space, discover new planets, recruit the help of local lifeforms, and get ready for an extraordinary adventure!

A really inventive little puzzle game. The art is beautiful and the protagonists and their interactions are creative and I grew to like them a lot during the game.

Although it has its flaws (like no log or diary to keep track of what puzzle\quest is on which planet) I would fully recommend this game to anyone who enjoys a short point and click adventure with interesting puzzles, lovable characters and a calm (yet fascinating) atmosphere.

Plus: You can fly around in your own little space rocket!. A lovely game, good story but a little bit short. And the characters move sooo slowly.. I'm far from good at Point'n'click games but this has, so far=~1 hour in been fairly logical with some help from the dog...

Music is of the sort you never really notice until you stop moving to end the game - but I just know I'd miss it if I turned it off so it's very suited to the game.

Graphics look very nice too, I'll use some screenshots from it for my Win background (as I do like dark ones), my only complaint would be the time travel can take, but that is if I really search for something to complain about. (as it may very well be something needed to make room for future modding of the game)

Future mods I do look forward to (and being able to find out what to do next to advance right now :P), so far I like it quite a lot, maybe not just as much as my fav. Point'n'click (Shardlight) but I am very biased as I'm a huge sucker for post apocalyptic things.... *Gnome Seal of Approval*

A pretty good game for its price. The characters are funny and the art in general is pretty darn good.

However, it does feel a bit tedious and unintuitive at times.

I was on the fence whether I'd recommend this or not, but ended up on a thumbs up because of the positive points mentioned above.. If you don't know how to use a spoon or how to open a tin can, just ask your dog. It knows everything. What, you don't understand their language? You're dumber than a monkey, my friend.. The game started out being interesting but quickly grew tedious. The puzzles were not intuitive and the plot was not compelling. I liked the idea behind the game but I think it could have been executed better.. 5.1 hours before finishing it BUT ... even if short, it's memorable. Ideal for beginners in pc gaming or even for the one like me that doesn't have a powerful pc with huge graphic card and gaming hardware. It's a point with the mouse with 4 keys on the keyboard kind of game. Not the usual W A D as for moving around in a game. I would recommend it for kids 10 + Years old with some hints to give them in the walkthrough (free and link bellow) if they get bored not finding the next step.

If you like the cartoon naive kind of sketchy drawings with vivid colors \(see my profile for screenshots of the game\) well you'll be playing in that universe for 5.1 hours. It's charming truly. It's not very challenging itself once you know what to do and in which order. You need no particular skills. just logic. The rest is pretty str8 forward. It's mostly about tasks to be done and ways to make it happen. There's not much fight that require speed. Mostly a chill, logic, relaxing game and nothing will bring you to a: "hurry the f\*\*\* up..Oups.. and game over" kind of moment.

It's a puzzle like game. Find the clue, use the clue, go forward or go read the achievements guide \(link is up\) if you're going crazy turning in circles. And so forth. I've enjoyed it. XD

No regret what so ever to have paid for this game and the price was proper considering the amount of work they have put in it 8.15 \$ \(CAN\). But considering it's a short game i would have paid less. Still, if it encourage the creators to make other games like this, wewt !!

PS: If you are an achievements freak, plan to play the game at least 2 times. Or find a way to show 30 items to Perseus within the 5 hours. LOLL Take 2... Here i come, takes just 1h to achieve what you have missed after.

The Game is super! Very hard quests, you really need to think a lot.
However, everything you have to do based on logic.
2 personages make a good team, having different abilities. And they are funny and cute.

All this cosmic physics, objects in the front and back of the personages, interaction with items and characters. All works perfect.

If you finish it with no help, then you are very smart! (=). Pros: Beautiful game, great animations.

Cons: Stupid puzzles, terrible game flow.

TL;DR: DON'T BUY THIS GAME. EVEN if it's on sale. Pay to NOT play this game.. simple concept, lovely artwork. Puzzles are intuitive and enjoyable.. The game's got a lovely art style (although it's a bit of a shame that the palette is so dull) and a nice feel to it, but many of the puzzles are quite farfetched and I had to resort to using one of the steam guides to be able to complete it. It's not a bad game, but it lacks variety.. Cool look, cool music. Fun explore weird planets and solve puzzles. I felt like the ending came rather abruptly, but overall enjoyable play.
